Now & Then – what's changed?

Look at photos of a beach from the Victorian time e.g. Blackpool.

What's the same and what's different?
 What was a bathing hut and what was it for?

Ice Cream Flavours

An ice cream shop sells 3 flavours: vanilla, strawberry, chocolate.
 You can have 2 scoops in a cone.
 How many different combinations can you have e.g. vanilla + vanilla, chocolate + strawberry...

 persuade people to visit the town.

Beach games

There are lots of games you could play at the beach: football, cricket, boules, rounders... or you could make up your own!

Backyard/garden Seaside

If you can't get to the seaside, maybe you could make one in your backyard/garden. Here are some ideas:

- Use chalks to create a seaside scene on a wall eg. sky, sea, sand, lighthouse
- Make a sandpit using a large plastic container/tray (keep it covered when not in use so cats don't use it)
- Put water in a large plastic container/paddling pool and keep your feet cool when it's hot (under adult supervision)
- Use umbrellas as sunshades or create a sunshade out of towels and chair backs

Seaside Diorama

A diorama is a 3D model of a scene. They can easily be made in an old box

- Paint or colour the background
- Make some seaside-inspired models
- Stick them in

There you have it - a miniature seaside. All you need now is ice-cream!

Rag Rug Beach Mat

Make a rag rug to use as a beach/picnic mat. You may need an adult to help

- Use old clothes/towels/bedding that is clean but not ready for throwing away
- Cut into long strips
- Using three strips at a time, plait them together
- Either roll the plaits into spirals and sew in that shape or
- Sew the strips together until you get the size you want

If the mat project is too big, you could just make some wrist bands

Seaside Rhyme/Poetry Challenge

Can you learn off by heart?

Why did you let him go?            Because he bit my finger so.            Which finger did he bite?            This little finger on my right. (move hand back and forward)            Here is my tail, (wriggle fingers on fish hand)            And here is my fin. (wriggle thumb)            When I want to have fun,            With my friends,            I swish my tail and dive right in. Then the tide flows over them,            And back down it goes. The salt is on my tongue,            The sea's song is sung,            The sun is going down,            And so my day at sea is done. Source: https://www.familyfriendpoems.com/poem/a-day-at-sea	Taken from A Miracle to Behold by Pat Fleming Seagulls soar above her surf,            The sun reflects and gleams,            While people come from miles around            To stroll upon her beach. Her touch conveys an icy chill            Through her stinging, foamy spray,            While her thunderous waves rush to the shore,            Then gently roll away. Her blue horizon meets the sky,            The end cannot be seen            While her salty fragrance fills the air            And floats upon the breeze. Source: https://www.familyfriendpoems.com/poem/a-miracle-to-behold
